Was Being Choked When Her First Guns in the Fight Made by Brother-in-Law Arrived.

Frank Sterns, twenty-five years old, he was sent to Raymond Street Jail.

Mrs. Daniel Langdon, of 74 Utica avenue, heard a voice in the front room of her apartments this morning, and while in the act of investigating Sterns suddenly jumped out of the room and seized her by the throat. After a flerce struggle Mrs. Langdon managed to get away from Stern and scream for help.

Her cries were heard by Daniel Langdon, her brother-in-law, who hurried to her assistance. Both men immediately engaged in a terrific struggle.

Locked in each others arms they rolled around the floor and into the hallway There they rolled around for a time and finally reaching the stairway, they wentflying down, bringing up with a bang on the landing below. Sterns, however, who was underneath, was partly stunned by the fall.

During all this time Mrs. Langdon kept up her screams for help, and many of the neighbors responded. While some held the burgiar down, others ran to the Atlantic avenue police station and returned with Detective-Sergeant Gray. The prisoner made several unsuccessful attempts to escape while on the way to the station, and afterwards, while proceeding to court. Sterns had packed up a little silverware when discovered.
